Dangreen®

Economically attractive growth layer for teeing areas

Description

Dangreen effectively retains water and nutrients in the soil, giving the plants optimum growth conditions while minimizing the need for ongoing maintenance. Dangreen is an economically attractive and efficient solution especially for teeing areas, which typically are maintained less often and intensively as greens. With minimum effort you can present smooth, wear-resistant and well-tended teeing areas.

BENEFITS OF DANGREEN

- Creates smooth and well-tended teeing areas
- Minimizes the need for ongoing maintenance
- Retains water and nutrients
